The world imagines... Mimaki delivers

The sublimation transfer printer to start your business with...

Designed specifically with ease of use and versatility in mind, the Mimaki TS30-1300 is a simple, entry-level sublimation transfer printer equipped with a carefully selected set of features that allows you to bring high-mix, low-volume print productions in-house. Sublimation transfer printing is widely utilised for textile and sportswear applications due to the elasticity and quick-drying capability of polyester material and in the growing market for soft signage applications, such as flags, retail in-store banners, and tapestries.

Print Speeds

Print modes listed on this brochure are included in the printer's specifications. Profiles are created by selecting print modes based on the characteristics of each media. However, profiles are not prepared for all media and print modes. If a profile is not provided, it can be created using Mimaki Profile Master.

Create...

Fashion apparel

Print and try out new idea as soon as inspiration hits! TS30-1300 drastically reduces lead time for sample-making and colour matching, meaning you'll never have to leave any ideas behind.

Sportswear

Digital printing enables creation of sports uniforms each with its own individual name, number and other custom texts or images. Add something extra to your offer, like customised towels or caps to match the uniforms.

Personalised items

Produce personalised items by printing on polyester-coated objects, such as mugs, coasters, mousepads, phone covers, photo frames and more! Create your samples and send them to your customers in no time.

Store decoration

Create indoor and outdoor soft signage to decorate retail spaces, including flags, banners and tapestries. Or create amazing retail point-of-sale items to make your product and business stand out from the crowd.
